

Kids & Pros Teams Up with Finish Line Youth Foundation and Police Athletic League to Provide Free Shoes to Youth in Atlanta

Atlanta, GA – For Release July 11, 2014 – Kids & Pros, a non-profit organization in Atlanta, run by former Atlanta Falcon, Buddy Curry and his wife Dawn, was chosen by the Finish Line Youth Foundation to give a $1000 shopping spree to 10 deserving youth in the Atlanta area. Kids & Pros chose youth from the Atlanta Police Athletic League (PAL) program as the recipients of the shopping spree. After meeting certain goals within the PAL program, each child received a gift card to purchase a pair of athletic shoes up to $100 in price. Kids & Pros Founders, Buddy and Dawn Curry, along with APD officer Richard Light and APD Officer Scott Jergler, members of PAL, shopped with the children at the Finish Line at Mall of Georgia in Buford. Buddy and Dawn Curry also provided each child with a pair of socks to go along with their shoes. Store Manager, Larry Miller along with other store employees provided a little guidance in selecting just the perfect pair of shoes for each child!

“We are thrilled to have such great partners in the Finish Line Youth Foundation,” said Buddy Curry. The Finish Line Youth Foundation is a sponsor of Kids & Pros Camp Equip, a free football and basketball camp held each June at Grady High School for inner city youth age 7 – 13 from Atlanta area Boys and Girls Clubs, YMCAs, PAL, and other youth organizations. “We appreciate the opportunity to provide the children from the PAL program with shoes that will help them continue to develop and lead an active lifestyle.”
